Some traditional Roman dishes you should try when in Rome:

1. Carbonara

A pasta dish made with egg, cheese (Pecorino Romano), guanciale (cured pork cheek), and black pepper. It's creamy and rich, with no cream added.

2. Cacio e Pepe

A simple yet delicious pasta made with just three ingredients: spaghetti, Pecorino Romano cheese, and black pepper. The cheese is melted into a creamy sauce with the pasta water.

3. Amatriciana

Another classic pasta dish, typically made with guanciale, tomato sauce, and Pecorino Romano cheese. It's often served with bucatini pasta.

4. Gnocchi

These soft potato dumplings are often served with a variety of sauces, including tomato sauce, pesto, or a butter and sage sauce.

5. Saltimbocca alla Romana

Thin slices of veal wrapped in prosciutto and sage, cooked in white wine. This dish is flavorful and tender.

6. Carciofi alla Romana

Roman-style artichokes, braised with garlic, mint, and parsley. They are a popular vegetable dish in the region.

7. Supplì

Fried rice balls filled with tomato sauce and mozzarella cheese. They are a popular street food and snack in Rome.

8. Porchetta

A savory, boneless pork roast that is seasoned with herbs and spices, then slow-cooked until crispy. It is often served in sandwiches.

9. Pinsa Romana

A type of flatbread that is light and airy, topped with various ingredients like tomatoes, mozzarella, and vegetables. It's a great alternative to traditional pizza.

10. Tiramisu

A famous Italian dessert made with layers of coffee-soaked ladyfingers and a creamy mixture of mascarpone cheese, eggs, and sugar. It's a perfect way to end your meal.
